

Poor Blood

When a horse is poor in flesh, a new harness won't give him strength. If a house is cold new furniture won't warm it. If your strength is easily exhausted; work a burden; nerves weak; digestion poor; muscles soft; if you are pale and worn out, the trouble is with the blood. It is not so much IMPURE blood as POOR blood. Pills won't make this blood rich; nor will bitters, nor iron tonics, any more than a new harness will give strength to the horse, or new furniture will make a house warm. For poor blood you want something that will make rich blood.

VINDICATED BY EVENTS.

SAYS W. J. BRYAN OF THE CHICAGO PLATFORM.

It is Necessary to Break the Back of Money Trust Before We Can Successfully Reach Any of the Other Trusts That Are Sucking the Life-Blood From the Nation—Independent Action Necessary.

Hon. W. J. Bryan spoke at Russellville, Ky., October 12. He was accompanied by National Committeeman Urey Woodson, Editor B. A. Enloe, Congressman John S. Rhea, and ex Congressman I. H. Goodnight. Mr. Bryan was introduced by Congressman Rhea, and spoke for two hours. He discussed the Chicago platform, vindicated by events. He asked the 10,000 people present to be as quiet as possible, as he was very hoarse from speaking so much. The crowd willingly obeyed. His hoarseness was apparent.

In regard to the main question he said the gold standard was adopted without the people asking for it or Congress knowing it and existed for twenty-three years without any party daring to approve it. The Democrats and Republicans in 1892 had both demanded bimetalism. The Populists in that year had adopted a resolution demanding bimetalism at 16 to 1, and to that extent were pioneers, but Democrats in Congress had voted for free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 right along for twenty years before. Some Populists thought that because the Democrats in 1896 had demanded free and unlimited coinage it was wrong, but it was right then, it was right before, it is right now, and I would stand by it until we get it.

He said the Democratic convention of 1896 was the most Democratic convention ever held. It was not a railroad-ridden, corporation owned, trust loving convention, but it came from the plow, from the workshop, from the hearts of the people. The Populist convention had adopted a platform identical in purpose and almost identical in language to the Democratic platform. The silver question was made the paramount issue and railroad ownership was subordinated by the Populists. Ninety per cent. of the people last year, he asserted, had voted for bimetalism.

The only party that thought the gold standard was a good thing was the National Democratic party, and they had polled only 132,000 votes in the whole country, carrying one precinct in which only six votes were cast, and they got only three of them. The gold standard was indefensible and only a man with a diseased imagination could defend it in the light of all that was against it. The Republican platform, however, was much worse, because it proposed to turn the settlement of the question to other nations. The Republican party was the only party that had ever proposed to repeal the Declaration of Independence.

He discussed at length the opposition of the capitalistic classes to the free coinage of silver and read dispatches showing how the bankers of England were protesting against even the slightest concession to silver. They might call him an anarchist, but he loved his country too well to allow English bankers to meet in secret session and govern our affairs. He loved his children too well to want to leave the conditions that should surround them to be controlled by a foreign syndicate. The question involved self-government, and until that was settled the government ownership railroads was not to be discussed. We might have to ask a foreign power if we might own them.

He read a dispatch showing that a commission appointed to investigate the question had reported that bimetalism would relieve the distress of the farmers of England so that in that, the greatest gold standard country on earth, it was still the capitalistic classes alone who demanded the gold standard. Justice, as well as numbers, demanded the restoration of the things that were. There was nothing in the Democratic platform but had been in the laws of the land, and no new thing was demanded. It is necessary to break the back of the money trust before we can successfully reach any of the other trusts that are sucking the life blood from the nation. He said it would be three years before the people again had the chance to vote on the question of bimetalism. He favored helping the Republicans to bring about international bimetalism if they could do it. He would back up the commissioners who are now in Europe in their effort to scare the British capitalists into an international agreement. Good Democratic majorities this fall would serve this purpose. The silver forces hoped to carry Nebraska this fall by 50,000.

He hoped Kentucky would return to the silver column, and with this message Wolcott could force the fighting on the other side and perhaps accomplish something for silver. "We want Nebraska, we want Kentucky, we want Iowa, and we want Ohio to show that the silver sentiment is growing," he said, "and thus make better the chance for an international agreement."

He spoke in favor of the income tax, and made a masterly argument against government by injunction. Mr. Bryan said that Carlisle had not left us. His body was gone, but his spirit was still with us, and could never die, meaning his '78 speech.

THE WONDERS OF SCIENCE.

LUNG TROUBLES AND CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

An Eminent New York Chemist and Scientist Makes a Free Offer to Our Readers.

The distinguished New York chemist T. A. Slocum, demonstrating his discovery of a reliable and absolute cure for Consumption (Pulmonary Tuberculosis) and all bronchial, throat, lung and chest diseases, stubborn coughs, catarrhal affections, general decline and weakness, loss of flesh, and all conditions of wasting away, will send THREE FREE BOTTLES (all different) of his New Discovery to any afflicted reader of the ENTERPRISE writing for them.

His "New Scientific Treatment" has cured thousands permanently by its timely use, and he considers it a simple professional duty to suffering humanity to donate a trial of his infallible cure.

Science daily develops new wonders, and this great chemist, patiently experimenting for years, has produced results as beneficial to humanity as can be claimed by any modern genius. His assertion that lung troubles and consumption are curable in any climate is proven by "heartfelt letters of gratitude," filed in his American and European laboratories in thousands from those cured in all parts of the world.

Medical experts concede that bronchial, chest and lung troubles lead to Consumption, which, uninterrupted, means speedy and certain death.

Simply write to T. A. Slocum, M. C., 98 Pine street, New York, giving postoffice and express address, and the free medicine will be promptly sent. Sufferers should take instant advantage of his generous proposition.

Please tell the Doctor that you saw his offer in the ENTERPRISE.

Young man look out for mother. You will never again have so true or kind a friend. Should her origin be simple think not of that, remember that she is the noblest work of our God and is your mother. Make her path through life as easy as you possibly can. Do not forget that she bore you, cared for you and tried to satisfy your childish whim. When you grow to manhood be a manly man to others but always "my boy" to mother.

"Why don't you run a newspaper like that?" a merchant said to a reporter. The other day, throwing out a Chicago daily, "For the same reason you don't run a store like that," the reporter replied turning to a full-page advertisement of a Chicago house showing a twelve-story building. The merchant looked attentively at the picture for a moment and said: "I never looked at it that way before." No?—Ex.

The Great Wallace Shows

which will exhibit in Lancaster Thursday, Nov. 11, recently visited East Liverpool, Ohio, and as it is something interesting to know what kind of an impression a coming amusement enterprise has left in other cities the following is reproduced from the Liverpool Crisis:

The Wallace Shows arrived on three long trains early this morning. After the small boy had accomplished satisfactorily the task of directing the unloading of the train, the erection of the big tent was begun at West End Park, and by 11 o'clock it was complete. The main tent which the Wallace Show carries has a capacity for seating 12,000 people.

Wallace boasts of a parade a mile long. The actual length of the line at noon to-day was more than that distance and was well closed up. The long parade passed without accident, though thousands jammed the streets. Everything about the Wallace show is new this year. New tents, new wagons, and pretty nearly an entire new equipment give the big show a bright, clean appearance.

CARRIES 1,000 PEOPLE.

The show carries, all told, 950 people, including men, women and children. The performers and management travel in a train of 48 special cars, built for them including 15 sleepers and a buffet car, where the performers and management eat breakfast.

The people with the Wallace circus are a better class, as a rule than other shows carry. There is an absence of the tough element. The management carries a clean show morally, and the employes seldom give the people in any city any trouble. The Pinkerton men accompany the circus and co-operate with the local authorities in watching for suspicious characters—and as a result the Wallace circus has the reputation for being absolutely free from the horde of pick-pockets and sneak thieves which usually accompany these traveling aggregations.

As an illustration of how this is appreciated by the local authorities, last week at Huntington, W. Va. the mayor and a delegation from the common council visited the circus and officially extended to the attaches the freedom of the city—the first time on record that that courtesy has been shown a circus.

Wallace carries the finest horses on earth. There are 600 horses with the show this year.

THE BIG FEATURE

over which crowds grow enthusiastic this season is the Nelson family acrobats. There are nine persons in the family, from the father, 50 years of age, to the little girl baby acrobat only 3 years old. Three of the nine are adults, and the Nelsons are pronounced the most wonderful combination of acrobats on earth.
